

A new clinical space for the hospital!

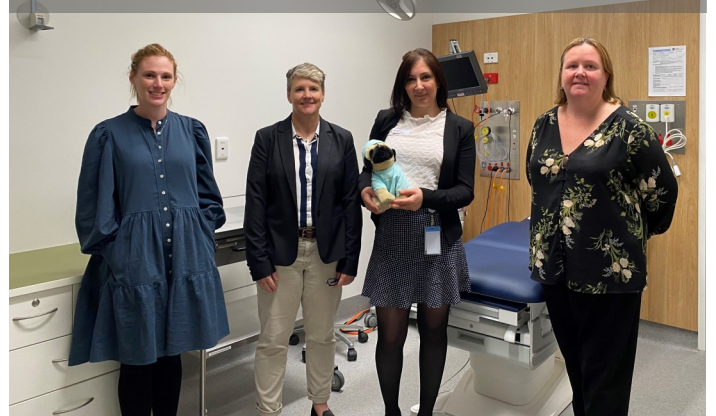

A brand new clinical space has been delivered at Liverpool Hospital following construction completion of the Brennan Unit (Forensics) marking a special new milestone for the redevelopment project team.

Brennan Unit Service Manager Batoul El Hussein said she's delighted that the Forensics Department has found its permanent home within the hospital's Emergency Department.

"Our new home was carefully designed and will operate its services in an environment that offers comfort, safety and efficiency. The new space is an all-inclusive unit where a patient's journey is supported by our wonderful team from the moment they arrive."

The new Forensics Department is the first brand new space to be delivered as part of the first stage of main works for the redevelopment of Liverpool Hospital.

Construction opportunities for local students

Fifteen local high school students recently graduated from the first Junior Construction Pathway Program, and are now equipped with the skills and knowledge to pursue an apprenticeship or an entry level position in construction.

Supported by the Liverpool Health and Academic Precinct (LHAP), and in a joint partnership between builder Lendlease, Regional Industry Education partnerships (RIEP) and TAFE NSW skills exchange, the program aims to build a pipeline of local talent over the course of the redevelopment project – taking one day per week, over five weeks to complete.

The pilot program has been successful with one student securing an electrical apprenticeship, two students securing work experience opportunities on the LHAP construction site and four securing interviews with sub-contractors on the LHAP site.

If you know someone interested in a construction pathway program, email liverpool@lendlease.com

'Tune in' for Mental Health Month

Last month our project builders, Lendlease and ADCO Constructions, participated in Mental Health Month advocating for and raising awareness of mental health and wellbeing in construction.

Our main works builder, Lendlease, also encouraged their project team members to 'Tune in' to their mental health and wellbeing by dedicating their day to help uplift Miller Community Centre.

In one day, the team repainted walls, planted succulents, built more storage and finished with a general clean – giving the centre a renewed space for the community to enjoy!

Site safety is always a priority

October was National Safe Work Month and a time to commit to building a safe and healthy workplace.

Car park builder, ADCO Constructions hosted a special lunch for their staff, taking the opportunity to discuss site safety and to present their safety award for the month to concreter, Giovanni.

Giovanni was congratulated for being a great role model and always leading the way to make safety a priority amongst his fellow colleagues and contractors on site.

Great work, team!

We had some excited little visitors from the hospital's childcare centre take a sneak peek of the new car park prior to its official opening.
