

New designs unveiled!

Excitement surrounding the Liverpool Health and Academic Precinct is ramping up, with the launch of new images and an animated fly-through.

Release of the new design concepts coincides with lodgement of State Significant Development (SSD) applications for the $740 million hospital upgrade and expansion, as well as the new $50 million car park, marking an important step in delivering the project for the Liverpool community.

The latest designs follow a comprehensive process of planning and consultation involving Health Infrastructure, South Western Sydney Local Health District, hospital staff, local medical and emergency personnel, community groups and patients.

Multiplex joins the project for next stage of works

The Liverpool Health and Academic Precinct project team recently announced Multiplex as the successful tenderer for the next stage of early works, working alongside stage one contractors, Roberts Pizzarotti.

Liverpool Hospital General Manager, Karen McMenamin welcomed the commencement of this next stage of works, which will see a range of construction and refurbishment activity happening on site.

“Progression to this stage marks a key milestone as we work towards delivering this exciting project, redeveloping Liverpool Hospital into an international hub of medical excellence, research and education.”

Works being undertaken by Multiplex will include reconfiguration and connection of existing car parks, a new kitchen facility, installation of retail spaces, a new mortuary, helipad upgrade and construction of a temporary education facility to support continued operations during the build.

A future tender process will support construction of the new multi-storey car park which, pending planning approvals, is expected to commence in late 2020 and be operational by 2022, in readiness for the precinct completion in 2026.

Early works continue across and around campus

While ground services upgrades and road works continue on surrounding streets, the Liverpool Health and Academic Precinct project has now progressed to the second stage of early works. Completion of this package of works, outlined in the map below, is expected in early 2021.

To ensure the safety of our patients and visitors, please follow signs and traffic controls in place.

Impacts during these works include:

- reduced parking in P1, P2 and P3 car parks (accessible parking spaces will be maintained where possible)
- alternate pedestrian routes around the hospital
- potential dust, noise and vibration during demolition.
