

From good to great!

The Liverpool Health and Academic Precinct will provide an expanded neonatal intensive care unit (NICU) for the little people in our community and their parents.

There is a lot of anticipation around the new NICU, which will offer enhanced neonatal care. Neonatal Intensive Care Unit director, Dr Jacqueline Stack is one of the many excited stakeholders to benefit from the Liverpool Health and Academic Precinct.

“The new NICU at Liverpool Hospital will be a great step forward for the families in south western Sydney who might need our services in the future.

“The size and design of the unit provides an environment which will further enhance the quality of care we offer and give families the chance to be completely involved in all aspects of the care of their babies,” Dr Stack said.

Did you know?

In the 2018-19 financial year, there were 3,718 births at Liverpool Hospital!

Parking matters to everybody

In addition to the $740 million commitment to the Liverpool Health and Academic Precinct, funds have been committed for a $50 million multi-storey car park that will provide more parking spaces and replace the smaller existing multi-storey car park.

The LHAP team is leading a car park working group to implement strategies to minimise and avoid disruptions to parking availability during construction. We understand the importance of parking to hospital patients, visitors and staff and that is why every effort will be made to find solutions that maintain the current number of parking spaces throughout the duration of works.

We've taken steps to relocate some staff parking to off-site locations in order to free up on-site parking for our hospital patients and visitors, and will continue to look at ways to make parking easier.

Early works update

Works to prepare the site are continuing on campus and along surrounding streets, with stormwater, sewer and service upgrade activities scheduled to take place until late August 2020. This will include some night works between now and late July.

Temporary impacts on Campbell, Goulburn and Elizabeth Streets include:

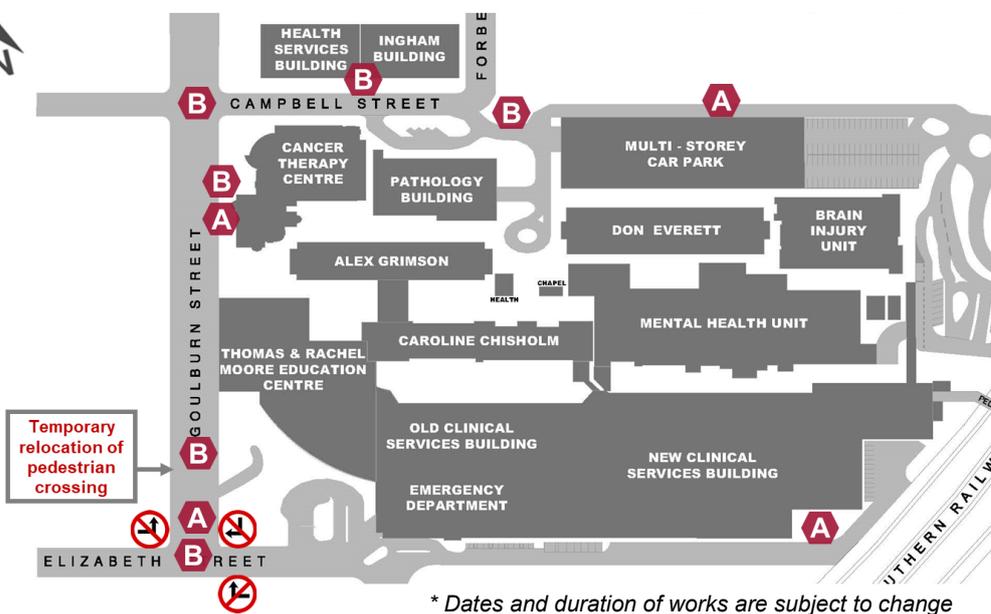

- street parking restrictions
- pedestrian route changes due to footpath works
- temporary relocation of pedestrian crossing on Goulburn Street
- resident only access to Goulburn Street during night works (7pm to 5am) from now until 19 April.

Detours and traffic control will be in place to support pedestrian and vehicle traffic flow in the area while these important works progress.

While there will be some disruptions across the hospital campus until project completion in 2026, we'll aim to provide ample notice of works to help reduce the impact on patients, visitors and staff. We appreciate your patience and remind you to:

- follow instructions and directions from traffic controllers and site staff
- walk only on marked paths and follow all road and site signage
- check signs around your usual parking area for upcoming changes as the project progresses
- report any concerns or questions you have to the redevelopment team on (02) 8738 6670 or by emailing SWSLHD-LHAP@health.nsw.gov.au

Stay tuned to messages around upcoming impacts to surrounding roads and campus access by following @LiverpoolHospital on Facebook.

Expressions of interest open – Arts Working Group

Art will play an important role in the development of the Liverpool Health and Academic Precinct. The project's arts and culture strategy will aim to connect and involve the community, and we're seeking enthusiastic community members to be part of our Arts Working Group. If you're passionate about the link between the arts and healthy minds and bodies, we're looking for you! To express your interest in being a part of this exciting aspect of the redevelopment project, please email your details and reason for applying to SWSLHD-LHAP@health.nsw.gov.au by Monday 13 April.
